

CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION OF CANADA
ANNUAL MEETING
Montréal, Québec, 12-14 May 2008

Proposal form

Proposals should be sent, preferably by e-mail, to arrive by 16 January 2008 (no extension will be granted), to Dr. Vayos Liapis, CAC 2008, Centre d'Études Classiques, Université de Montréal, C.P. 6128, succursale Centre-ville, Montréal (QC) H3C 3J7, Canada.

We prefer submissions to be sent by e-mail to: vayos.liapis@umontreal.ca. Submissions for the Women's Network panel should be clearly marked as such by using the phrase 'To be considered for the "Women and Power" WN panel' at the head of hard-copy submissions or in the 'subject' field of email submissions.

The theme for this year's Women's Network Panel at the CAC is "Women and Power". Broadly, this panel seeks to address the question of how women in the ancient world wielded what powers they had in public and private life, how they were seen to do so, and how they negotiated a lack of power. Types of power under consideration could include, but are by no means limited to, political, economic, legal, sexual, social, familial, religious and creative power. This call for papers is meant to be suggestive rather than exclusive; papers are solicited on all aspects of the relationships between women and power in the ancient world, and on representations of those relationships in the literary and material record."

Since we anticipate a high turn-out, we may be obliged to make some hard choices and turn down papers we would have otherwise accepted. Please make sure your abstract is well vetted.

Author's name and title:

Affiliation:

Address:

Telephone:

E-mail:

Title of paper:

Preferred session (mark one: once accepted, papers which cannot be accommodated in a special session will automatically be considered for regular sessions):

Greek tragedy ___ Women & Power ___ Regular session ___

Equipment needed (laptops and laser-pointers will not be provided; if using a laptop, please specify type).

Please add on a separate page your paper-title and an abstract of c. 200 words